The 21 Acres campus is a living laboratory in Woodinville, Washington where community comes together to learn and act on climate change.

Our campus hosts a LEED Platinum-Certified building (one of the first in the greater Seattle area), a farm managed with regenerative practices, a local foods Farm Market and distribution center, and more.

Situated just 30 minutes east of Seattle in the Sammamish Valley Agricultural Production District, 21 Acres sits at the crux of urban and rural land. Founded in 2006, 21 Acres is a nonprofit family foundation.

21 Acres volunteers support a broad range of projects on the farm, including planting, weeding, mulching, invasive plant removal and more. Volunteers are vital partners in reaching our land stewardship goals and are passionate changemakers in climate action, regenerative farm practices, green energy, and our food systems.

See the next page to learn what's included in our volunteer teams experience.

Learn Together

Participate in hands-on group projects on our farm and surrounding wetland. Learn about agroecology, climate resilience, local food economies, and more from our knowledgeable 21 Acres staff. All tools are provided. Volunteer session lasts 2-3 hours.

Picnic on the Farm

Plan a team lunch in our shaded picnic area on the farm. We can provide a list of local catering services. Please pack all of your trash out with you. Please note: We are not able to provide meals at this time.

Farm Market Discounts

Enjoy a 10% discount in our Farm Market to use on the day your team volunteers. Browse a wide variety of local produce, meat and eggs, dairy, bulk items, baked goods, handmade gifts, and more.

SCHEDULING YOUR TEAM

Is a 21 Acres Volunteer Teams Experience right for your team?

- ✓ Are you looking for a unique and rewarding experience that fosters connection and teamwork?
- ✓ Is your team between 10 and 50 people?
- ✓ Is your team available to volunteer Wednesday through Saturday?
(Subject to calendar availability)
- ✓ Can you give at least 2 weeks notice before your desired volunteer date?

If you answered "yes" to all of the above questions, a volunteer team experience is right for you!
