

PHOTOGRAPHER

Help us tell the story of 21 Acres through eye-catching photography and videography!

Volunteer Photographers play an important role in sharing our work with the community. From capturing our seasonal harvests to documenting special projects and events, Volunteer Photographers tell the story of local food systems and climate action through 21 Acres articles, events, newsletters, social media and more. This role is ideal for someone who wants to work on their portfolio of food and event photography.

Time Commitment: 2-3 hours per month depending on organization needs. Day of the week and timing to be determined based on volunteer availability.

Works with: Volunteer Coordinator

Training: Orientation will be provided, some training if needed.

Skills/Supplies Needed: At least six months of experience in photography with knowledge of editing techniques. Must have a digital camera and your own editing software.

Age Requirement: Volunteers ages 13-15 need an adult participant volunteering with them, and anyone under the age of 18 needs parent/guardian permission.

By participating as a volunteer photographer or videographer, you grant permission for 21 Acres to use, without limitation or obligation, your photographs or other media to promote or interpret 21 Acres programs. We know exposure isn't a form of payment. We deeply value your contributions and acknowledge the skill and time involved in providing your services for free. We will credit you in our communications wherever we use your work.
